

Monday, June 15, 2009

Dear Alumni:

I lived in Jagannath Hall from 1963 -1968, right before leaving for England. I received my B.Sc. (Hons, 1966) and M.Sc. (Physics, 1967) by being a resident of Jagannath Hall. My deeply nostalgic memories impel me to share the following personal anecdotes with my fellow Alumni, personally known or unknown.

My younger brother, Samprakash Majumdar, called me from his home city of Los Angeles, California, last week [Prakash completed his B. Sc. (Engineering) from EPUET in 1968.] His only son, Devdoot, was born in Los Angeles in November, 1982. He told me that Devdoot has already received his Ph. D. from UCLA. He did his Undergraduate Degree from MIT; and then he came closer to his parents for his graduate works.

My elder brother, the late Sampanna Majumdar - a Jagannath Hall Alumnus - lived in London England up to the time of his sudden death, on the Valentine's Day of 1996, by a hit-and-run vehicle. As I understood, a few weeks earlier, his youngest daughter, Anne Joya, might have already completed her Ph.D., or is completing it now in London, England. She was born in the month of June of 1978.

We wish to hear the glorious stories of our progeny in GTA.

Wishing you the best, now and ever.

Samprasad Majumdar

1-905-383-4650